

Sutton Hoo's mystary!

By Noa Clergeaud

In the lands of east anglia a huge, amazing burriel layed on the lands of a lady.

In the burriel there was a chamber with a dead person. Next to the person there was a shiny, gold sword as shiny as the sun.

We think that the person they buried was a king called Readwald. That king was buried in the 7th century in the boats chamber.

Also the chamber was full of jewellery such as pots, helmets and weapons.

What other objects were found in Sutton who?

Many objects were found in the chamber such as:
Tools, armour, equipment and weapons.
