ESA Headquarters,
Paris,
France.

Dear Sir/Madam,

Do you want ^{astronauts} astronauts that are clueless and unable to cope with things on your missions, or do you want the best candidate that can help you on every mission? Well, the answer is obvious, and in this letter, you will find strong ^{points} reasons why I am the best fit for ~~this mission~~ to join your organization.

Firstly, I would be an excellent future ESA astronaut because I can speak/understand more than one language. I am able to speak English, Hindi and Gujarati ^{}fluently and I believe that this benefit would help me when communicating alongside other astronauts, that have different nationalities. In ^{}addition to this, I am currently being taught French, which will allow me to help me with communicating to others when working in a group. By me joining the amazing work at the ESA, this would be a great benefit for many, many reasons.
