Rhyme of the Week

Literacy Challenge

In our story this week, Matisse likes to make marks and paint everywhere he can.

Can you think of somewhere creative you can practise making marks and writing your name?

You might want to practise writing your name under your covers with a torch, on paper stuck to the bottom of a table or write it in mud using your finger outside!

Maths Challenge

In maths, we will be learning about different types of positional language.

Can you look through the PowerPoint and practise using some positional language by describing where the worm is?

Language to focus on:

On top, under, in front of, behind, next to.

School Value of the Month!
