Children around the world travel to school in lots of different ways!

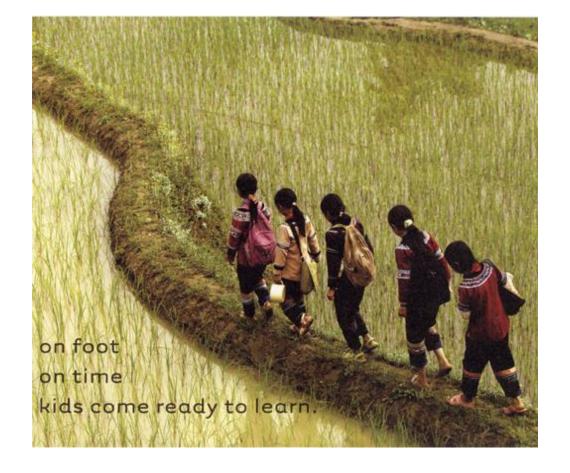

Children in desert countries sometimes travel by camel. We don't see many of these around here.

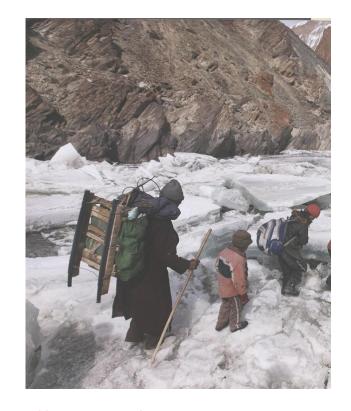

If you're not careful you'll get wet feet! These children are walking between the rice fields in China

These children and their parents walk 62 miles to their school along the frozen Zanskar river high in the Himalayas in Kashmir. They have to complete their journey before the ice starts to melt.

Actively travelling has many benefits!

- It reduces pollution around school
- It is a way to get daily exercise
- You can meet with your friends so its fun
- Helps you to keep healthy
- It reduces congestion at school gates
- It makes you more ready for a day of learning

Walk to School Chart 2022

Each student will record on the chart how they travelled to school each day of the week.
